Nobody's Perfect

Factual Dating Reality

Is honesty the best policy when it comes to love?

'Nobody's Perfect' is an original factual reality dating format, which presents a daring new matchmaking experience where potential couples are forced to air out all of their darkest secrets on the very first date. Can revealing your true self and hidden flaws actually be the new way to find love?

Each 45 minute episode will see a potential couple meet for the very first time and pass through 6 emotionally challenging 'pressure dates' in which they will be forced to confess their deepest darkest secrets and flaws.

What would you do if your date revealed that they were an exotic dancer? That they had 2 children? That they had posed for adult magazines?

Each participant will endure several personalized dates in which the promise of love will be put to the test. The emotional stakes will be high and will only increase as the dates continue.

Can a loving relationship be created through baring your soul from the get-go? This compelling new dating format will attempt to prove just that.

Nobody's Perfect...But they may be perfect for you!
